In recent years, the global legal issues faced by companies have become increasingly complex and diversified as a result of rapid changes to society and corporate business practices.

For example, there are an increasing number of dispute resolution cases which require not only a deep understanding of the law, but also comprehensive business judgment incorporating tax and accounting implications. As a result, attorneys handling corporate legal affairs are increasingly required to possess significant expertise in corporate matters in addition to legal expertise.

In that regard, Uryu & Itoga has abundant expertise and experience in our practice areas which include dispute resolution, crisis management, general corporate affairs, M&A, IT, insolvencies and business turnarounds, and finance. In addition, Uryu & Itoga also retains talented and experienced professionals specializing in tax and accounting matters.

With the collective experience and expertise of our professionals in their respective areas and the ability of our firm to provide a unified service platform, we can provide optimal solutions to enable our clients to pursue their business objectives quickly and efficiently.

A Japanese law firm capable of resolving any legal issue in the world

Uryu & Itoga's practice began with Ryo Itoga providing legal services to clients conducting business in China in the 1970s. As a result, Uryu & Itoga has the distinction of being the Japanese law firm with the longest history of providing legal services relating to China. Over time, our practice has greatly expanded and our professionals currently advise clients on international investments, transactions and commercial matters not only related to China, but also Hong Kong, Taiwan, Macau, Vietnam, South Korea, Russia and other Asian regions based upon their local laws and regulations. To accomplish this, we retain a diverse group of experienced professionals whose expertise encompass a wide range of practice areas including: (1) investments (establishment of local companies, M&A, restructuring, etc.); (2) divestitures (dissolution and liquidation, sales of equity interests, etc.); (3) commercial trade transactions (sales and purchase of cargo, technology transfer, etc.); (4) legal matters related to management of local subsidiaries; (5) contract drafting; (6) international trade regulations (anti-dumping and other WTO-related issues); and (7) dispute resolution (complex litigation, arbitration, labor disputes, administrative sanctions, etc.).

Comprehensive business support through closely-knit collaboration among our professionals

Uryu & Itoga provides advice related to general corporate legal affairs, both domestically and internationally, for Japanese companies engaging in business activities worldwide. We are a dedicated team of experienced professionals that provide comprehensive, optimal business solutions via a single unified service platform for matters requiring legal, accounting and tax perspectives. Our attorneys accomplish this by working in close collaboration with our group companies and our certified public accountants, tax accountants, foreign attorneys and other professionals to gain a genuine understanding of each clients' complete business needs.
